

Women Soar You Soar Scholarships

July 27 to August 2, 2009

WASP Scholarship

EAA's Women Soar is offering a scholarship to attend either EAA AeroScholars (www.aeroscholars.org) or EAA Air Academy (www.young eagles.org/programs/airacademy) during 2009!

Choice 1: AeroScholars is a web-delivered aero sciences course that provides high school and/or college credit. It's for high school level students interested in math or science fields and provides preparation for the FAA written private pilot's exam.

Choice 2: Air Academy is an American Camping Association accredited residence camp held in Oshkosh. It offers exciting aviation challenges and experiences including flight! The Scholarship recipient may attend a camping session between June and August, 2010.

This $500 scholarship honors the memory of The WASP (Women Air Force Service Pilots) who have passed away. The WASP greatly valued the scholarship program and EAA, and they have participated in the inaugural Women Soar in 2005. They believed in inspiring young women to pursue their dreams.

To apply, please submit in writing:

- Why you are attending Women Soar
- What you are expecting to take away from the event
- How does attendance support your personal goals

Requirements: Submittals must be received before July 1, 2009. Convey your thoughts in no less than 2 paragraphs (typed) and limit your response to no more than 1 page.

The winner will be announced during the closing program at 4:00 pm Tuesday, July 28.
